WILL OFFICIALLY TAKE OVER BRIDGE THURSDAY

County Commissioners
to Formally Release Owners

PLANS FOR CELEBRATION

Meeting of Various Committees Called For Wednesday Evening

The county commissioners of Fayette and Washington counties have set Thursday morning of this week at 11 o'clock as the time when they will take formal possession of the Belle Vernon bridge and declare it free. Until that time the Belle Vernon bridge company which owns the structure will have possession, and be allowed to take toll.

Both the attorneys of the petitioners, T. P. Jones of Uniontown, and Alex Templeton of Washington, have agreed that legally toll cannot be collected now, but for the sake of peace the bridge company will be allowed the few days grace. It is likely that some of the company officials will be present Thursday when the bridge is taken over.

The price set on the structure is $50,000, but it is understood that to make possible the payment of debt, the company will take an appeal in an effort to have the purchase price increased. The preparations for a free bridge demonstration are going along well, and by tomorrow night when a meeting of the various committees in charge of the arrangements will be held, it is hoped to have something definite to report.

WILL DEMOLISH HISTORIC INN AT CANNONBURG

Unless some historical society intervenes the old Black Horse Tavern at Cannonburg, through whose rooms flit the ghosts of George Washington and other heroes of Revolutionary days, and though whose atmosphere still seem to echo the shouts and protestations of mail robbers during the Whisky Insurrection of 1794 and 1795, will be torn down to give place to a modern High School building.

For 136 years the old Black Horse Tavern has stood as a landmark. It was erected by Colonel John Canon, for whom Cannonburg was named. Many times there George Washington, in his knee breeches, silver-buckled shoes and cocked hat indulged in a social glass and told Colonel Canon of his experience. There also many times candles burned far into the night while powdered wigs bent close together, their owners in serious discussion of the Whisky Insurrection.

By January 1, 1911, all will be gone. There will be a large brick building, costing $7,000, erected on the spot. This structure is to contain 16 rooms, and auditorium, a gymnasium, a swimming pool and an apartment for a shower bath. At a recent meeting of the Cannonburg school board the property was purchased for $8,350 from the L. A. Adams estate, and work will be started in a short time. It is believed that some historical society will have the building moved to another lot and preserved as a relic of olden times.

Water Cause of Typhoid

"Shovel Row" Residents Use Contaminated Liquid With
Disastrous Results

Through the use of contaminated water it is believed an epidemic of typhoid has been started in the "Shovel Row." In all there are six cases at the present time, and two patients have been taken to the Monessen-Charleroi hospital. The residents, it is stated unwittingly used the water that was supposed to contain the disease germs. Charleroi is well rid of contagious diseases at the present time. The quarantine will be removed from all houses where there has been scarlet fever this week and the patients all allowed out. There are but two cases of measles.

Cigar Factory for Charleroi

Practical Cigar Maker Plans
Starting Large Plant
Here

Charles Black of Washington avenue, a practical cigar maker, who for some time has been employed as a machinist at Macbeth-Evans chimney factory, is contemplating starting a cigar factory in Charleroi, and if he can secure the support of the local dealers, will carry out his intention. At present he is making a canvass of the dealers in town to ascertain what trade he could secure. In his opinion there is an opening for a good cigar factory in Charleroi, one that would employ 15 or 20 men in the manufacture of the product. The nearest one now is in Uniontown.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT MAY BE CUT DOWN IN COUNTY

Commissioners Will
Inspect New Road
Bentleyville and Ellsworth
Highway Recently
Finished

The county commissioners will join with the State Highway Department in an inspection of the Ellsworth and Bentleyville roads on next Friday for the purpose of taking the roads off the hands of the contractors, if found satisfactory and up to specifications. Hastings and Piper of Charleroi, who were the contractors for the construction of the road, recently finished the work.

No Market for Proposed Issue of
Bonds

PRESENT DEMAND SLIGHT

Commissioners Offered
Them for Sale About
A Month Ago

Because of failure to find a market for a proposed $100,000 issue of bonds, the indications are that no additional road improvements will be contracted in Washington county during this year.

Additional work cannot be done unless the bonds are sold and the market for this kind of paper is very slow at the present time.

It has been over a month since the county commissioners offered this issue of bonds, but no purchaser has so far been found. The indifference of buyers is attributed to the fact that there are better opportunities for investment than these road bonds.

Under the state law the county is compelled to sell road bonds at par, four per cent interest, subject to a four mill tax which is paid by the purchaser. This arrangement reduces the income on the paper so that there is no demand for it as an investment.

The county commissioners yesterday made an inspection of the newly improved road leading from the Quail farm in North Strabane township to the Hill Presbyterian church near South Canonsburg. They found everything finished up in accordance with plans and specifications and will soon formally take the road off the contractors' hands. This road is built in accordance with the Sprout law sections, the last three mile stretch being completed last week by Reitch Bros.

ENTERTAIN FOR MEMBERS WHO ARE MOVING AWAY

Last evening the members of Iris Rebekah Lodge gave Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stone who are moving to Canada a farewell surprise. About 9 o'clock 30 or more members came in and a very enjoyable time was spent. A dainty lunch was served after which a beautiful lodge pin was presented Mrs. C. W. Stone by Noble Grand Mrs. B. Matson.

JEWISH SYNAGOGUE TO BE ERECTED AT MONESSEN BY FAITH IN VALLEY

Ground is Purchased for Structure--Benefit Dance Will be Held at Eldora Park Tonight

To raise money for a new synagogue which it is proposed to erect eventually at Monessen, Hebrews of the valley will tonight give a dance at Eldora Park. A site for the synagogue has been purchased on Schoonmaker avenue, near Second street, Monessen, on which is a small house, which is at present being used as a place of worship. There is no synagogue in the valley, and most of the members of the Jewish faith have to go to Pittsburgh to worship. The place at Monessen would be for all Hebrews along the valley. Rabbi H. Lavandis, who has been in Monessen some time, is at the head of the movement for a new synagogue.

SIXTY DAYS TO COLLECT $7,000

Commissioners Make Record in Getting Money for County

During the last sixty days the county commissioners have collected over $7,000 in fines, costs and forfeited recognizances, the largest amount ever collected in the county in a similar period of time. These items together with the amounts collected in the regular channels, make the last session of criminal court a very inexpensive one to the taxpayers.

Special Train Will be Run to Cascade From Brownsville

Odd Fellows and their friends will go from all along the valley, the trip both to and from the park to be made by special train. The committees have secured exclusive charge of the dancing pavilion at the park. The special train will leave Brownsville at 7:15 o'clock and will arrive at Monessen at 7:45, making stops at intermediate places.

to Look for Martin
Hart

An inquiry has been received by Postmaster J. E. McCordle from B. McHenry at 817 Lyon avenue, West End, Birmingham, Alabama, as to the whereabouts of Martin Hart, supposed to be in this community. John Hart, a brother of Martin Hart is seriously ill at Birmingham. It is supposed that the Martin Hart referred to is in reality Marvin Hart, who competed in Marathon races in this vicinity last year.

STICKS ARM OUT OF WINDOW WITH SERIOUS RESULTS

Joseph Guthrie Sustains Fracture of Limb Through Carelessness

Through carelessly putting his arm out of the car window just as the car on which he was coming from Pittsburgh was entering the local barn, Joseph Guthrie of California sustained a serious injury yesterday afternoon. His hand struck against a pole, and by the wrench his arm was broken. Dr. H. J. Repman reduced the fracture and the man was taken home.

WEDDING A SURPRISE TO FRIENDS

Bride Goes to McKeesport Then Joins
Fiance

AFFAIR OCCURRED SUNDAY

Going on a visit to McKeesport and then quietly leaving there, Miss Elsie Flickinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Flickinger of McKean avenue, went to West Virginia Sunday to join her fiance, William McDermott, and the couple were married. Word was telegraphed back home yesterday to both the bride and groom's families. It is likely that the couple will reside in Clarksburg, where Mr. McDermott is engaged in the real estate business.

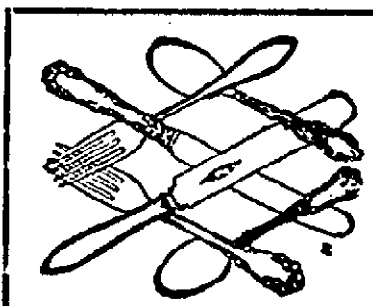

The groom was until about a month ago connected with other members of the family here in the McDermott Creamery Products company, having been in Charleroi about four years. He went to Clarksburg from here to engage in business with the Clarksburg Land company. Last week Miss Flickinger went to McKeesport for a visit with her sister, and was able to leave there without causing any suspicion of her intentions. She is one of the best known young ladies of Charleroi, being a favorite among a large circle of acquaintances. Last year she was a student at the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music, where she was regarded as an especially brilliant and talented student. The Charleroi friends of the popular couple wish them much happiness.

Dreaming Again

With the ease and facility of the logic that concerns a school boy to eternal damnation because he missed a word in spelling at school, as his failure to study his lesson was wrong, and therefore a sin, and every sin is deserving of eternal punishment, former Congressman E. F. Acheson in the Washington Observer dopes out a line of reasoning that precludes any contest for the Republican nomination for county office next year.

He reasons thusly: An independent ticket is to be nominated for Governor and State officers and the movement is to be duplicated in Washington county, whereby the alleged independents will put up a ticket endorsing the Democratic nominees for Congress, Senate and Assembly.
This ticket he has figured will win this fall by a majority any where from 1,500 to 3,000, and this victory will so dampen the ardor of prospective candidates for the various county offices, that all will be afraid to come out for the Republican nominations next year. Consequently there will be no contest. Perfectly clear, isn't it?

But alas! "The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglee." A new party means a new organization, and a new organization means money,
and the first snag Mr. Acheson's movement will encounter will be the question, "Who's got the barrel?"
His dope may work all right on paper, but if the attempt is made Mr. Acheson will find himself worse "licked" than were the Citizens and Lincolites when they fused with the Democrats in an attempt to dethrone the exboss himself in 1905 and 1906.

Drumming Up Trade

What many cities and towns are doing in the way of promoting trade.
Secretary of State Knox wants to do for the whole United States. Uncle Sam is not getting his share of the world's trade because he is not making the proper hustle, and Secretary Knox plans to call the United States consuls in from the various countries abroad, and have them make talks and addresses at the manufacturing centers of this country, and tell how the countries to which they are sent turn the trick on Uncle Sam in the way of getting the world's trade.

While the United States has a big export trade in certain lines the aggregate is not large in proportion to the resources and manufacturing facilities of this country. For that reason many of the biggest industries here are idle a portion of the time each year, because they have the home markets supplied. With a wider market abroad mills, mines and factories in this country would run continuously the year around. For this reason Secretary Knox wants to apply the Booster methods in much the same way that the business people of Monongahela successfully extended their trade a few months ago.

A Broken Life Line

"The Dull Season" is the title of an interesting little monograph recently issued by the Siegfried company, General Advertising, 50 Church street, New York. Under the caption
"The Broken Life Line," appears the following:

"By all means, if a business is a business of seasons, be so governed.
Let up a little. Wait your horses.
But an advertiser should continue to feed out a few agate lines or so, and not be intimidated into silence by an unrelenting weather bureau. People forget in July and August much more easily than they do in December, for instance, which is one more of a hundred good reasons why there should be at most only a partial letting up, and never an absolute cessation of advertising. Remember that Rip Van Winkle had quite a deuce of a time getting recognized when he came back.
"And what every advertiser had cold feet in July and August? True, July and August were made for holidays. But advertisers cannot afford holidays. It was not intended to have holidays. To cut out advertising entirely in July and August is to sever the iron threads of communication between your business and your public—it is to have a broken life line. Advertising is the soul of business, and July and August are just hot enough to make a soul a very necessary asset."

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Model clubs are usually model in name only.

In Norfolk, Neb., two girls have been caught dragging a plough.

Through squelching every argument that E. F. Acheson can put up, his detractors will have him so mad pretty soon that he will either run for Governor or Congress. He'll soon get to the vindictive stage.

New York City's advertising bill last year was $4,855,798.67 during the last six years. That compares well with Charleroi's, only the latter is not quite so large.

In New York chaffeurs must be both capable and careful. In this part of Pennsylvania for a chaffeur to have just one of the aforeaid pictures is an exception.

A boy down in Washington is to get a fortune when he's 28 years old, if he does a quantity of things before he reaches that age. Among the provisions being one that he lets women alone. But when he meets some chorus girl, the chances of him winning that fortune are somewhat nullified.

The man who got a two dollar raise a year ago and has not yet told his wife about it is a greater strategist than Napoleon ever was.

If it costs Col. Roosevelt $5,000 a day, as he says it does, to be ex-President, why doesn't he make a deal with the moving picture exchange?

Oklahoma is not to be laughed at for having two capitals. Look at Beverly.

The Atchison Globe is authority for the statement that people who really like you are rare. It further states that you are a fool if you offend such persons.

The other fellow never has much chance in this world, when everything is "I."

The Democrats can always find fault with everything the Republicans do, until they profit, then it is entirely different.

It is the custom to have your pictures taken when you graduate from school and when you die. The first is for your friends to laugh over, and remark how silly you look, and the second for friends too look grief-stricken and remark "How natural."

If Manager Fred Clark wants a substitute for his Pittsburgh team we'll send him the Catholics or the Episcopals of our Church league. Either team can show the Pirates how to play ball.

TUBERCULOSIS

Statistics carry no conviction to the common mind. When the average citizen is informed that 10,105 people died of Tuberculosis in Pennsylvania in 1908, he stares vacantly, says,
"You don't say," and straightway forgets all about it. Numbers in the abstract convey no image to his mind. But if you point him to a funeral passing and tell him that in that white hearse lies the lifeless body of his next door neighbor's darling little girl dead of tuberculosis, he is saddened and begins to think about his own precious ones and what it would be to him if one of them were being carried to her long home, and possibly for a few brief moments may give up thinking of dollars and cents and appreciate that there are rare other values to be considered and protected.

And then if he were told that the continued funerals of those more than 10,000 victims of a preventable disease would have formed a melancholy cortege stretching over hill and dale all the way from Philadelphia to Pittsburg and back again. Or that if the obsequies of these 10,000 dead had been observed consecutively beginning at the beginning of that year, the observance would not only have
day throughout that entire year, but the dirges would still be chanting and bells tolling for nearly two long years to come, he might be led to give some heed to the warnings with which health officials are continually annoying him. But perhaps after all his commercial instincts are the strongest and if he could be led to comprehend the cold fact that all the so-called banks in Philadelphia could not with their combined declared capital pay the money loss to the State from tuberculosis in that single year he might come to the conclusion that,
on a mere monetary basis, it is good business for the State and the city to vote liberal appropriations to the health authorities to enable them to adopt measures to check this inordinate loss. More than this, he might consider it worth the methods which science shows to be of practical use in protecting his own life as well as those of his dear ones from the ravages of this scourge.

The individual has his duty as well as the State. The private citizen as well as the official. The father must feel with the mother a joint responsibility for the protection of the health of his children. He should keep in mind the fact that the school age is one of rapidly increasing liability to consumption, and the not less important fact that the chief bulwark against the inroads of the germ of this disease is a vigorous constitution.
It must be the parents' business to see that the children have plain, wholesome, nourishing food, and do not ruin their digestion, which is the main basis of a good constitution, by stuffing with candies and dainties and eating at irregular hours. They should not be allowed tea or coffee unless by permission of the family physician. Boys should not be allowed to use tobacco. Growing children should retire early, should not frequent evening places of amusement, should have at least nine hours sleep and should sleep with open windows, protected from drafts by screens if necessary. They should take a daily sponge bath of the body, followed by vigorous friction with a coarse towel.

If they have been pronounced too have weak lungs by a physician, they should be taken from school and brought up in the open air in the country if possible. All school children should spend at least three hours in the open air every day. Exercise in the gymnasium, while very well as a part of the school curriculum, should not be allowed to take the place of out door play.

Our children are being educated under high pressure. It flatters a parent's vanity of course to have his child getting 100 in all his studies, but this satisfaction may be dearly bought by reducing the child's bodily resistance to so low an ebb, that the tuberculosis germ, ever on the watch, finds the child an easy prey. Teachers are too apt to forget that their pupils have bodies as well as minds and to sacrifice the health of the children committed to their care on the altar of their own reputation as pedagogues.
—Dr. Samuel Dixor, State Health Commissioner.

EPISCOPALS BEAT LUTHERANS IN A WELL PLAYED GAME

Score 3 to 2 When the Smoke of Brittle Rolls
Away

The Episcopalians defeated the Lutherans in a game, which was afterward protested on a technical point at the ball park last night. The contest was a pitcher's battle with honors pretty evenly divided. Both teams scored in the first inning. For the Episcopals Johnston got a base on balls, and was sacrificed to second. Guder singled and Simcox singled scoring Johnston. Guder tallied on a passed ball. Guder got one through an error in the fourth, and by an error and Montgomery's single tallied.

The Lutherans scored in the first when Simcox dropped Butz's fly, and the runner came around on an error.
Wertz was safe in the seventh on an error, and chased around on a life and an error. The score:

Eczema—A Germ Disease Can Now Be Cured.

The medical profession is all agreed that Eczema is a germ disease but the thing that has baffled them is to find some remedy that will get to the germs and destroy them.
Zemo the clean, external treatment has solved this difficulty by drawing the germs to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the diseases. The whole method of treatment and cure by Zemo is explained in an interesting book on the subject issued by the makers of Zemo. It tells how to cure yourself at home of Eczema, Blackheads, Pimples, Dandruff and all diseases of the skin and scalp. Call at Piper Bros. Drug Store for Booklet and learn more about this clean, simple remedy that is now recognized the standard treatment for all disease of the skin and scalp.

visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Pierce Ferguson.

The Word "Person."

General Benjamin F. Butler. It is said, once asserted that a woman was not a "person," and a London suf-frageite insists that the word "person" in its legal sense includes woman. The word has had an interesting history.
Signifying by etymology something to make a sound through, the Latin "persona" began by meaning an actor's mask with its mouthpiece. Then it meant the character represented by the player—"dramatis personae." Then it came to mean the part or character one sustains in real life, and so the "persona ecclesiae," the man who represented the church, became known as a "person." In a special sense and was eventually spelled as "parson."
On the other hand, "person" faded away to mean just anybody. And so though a woman naturally resents being referred to as a "person" in ordinary talk, many women no less naturally desire to count as "persons" in the eye of the franchise law.—Chicago News.

He Got None.

"What's a pun, father?"
"A pun, my son, is a play upon words. There are three kinds of puns—good ones, which you laugh at; indifferent ones, which you take no notice of, and bad ones, which make you throw something at the punster."
"Can you make a pun, father?"
"Of course, my son! Now, you're thinking about your supper, aren't you?"
"Yes, father."

"Well, that's supper-most in your mind at the present time. That you see, is a play on— Here, you young rascal, what did you throw that book at me for?"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Frog Farming In France.

Among the advantages of frog farming in France is the fact that it enables persons of limited means to utilize marshes and ponds which are too shallow and warm for fish culture and practically useless for any other purpose and produce on a comparatively small area a large amount of valuable food material for which there is always an eager market.

FOUGHT CATARRH FOR 20 YEARS

Here is a letter that we sincerely ask every reader of the Mail to read.
If you suffer from catarrh or any nose, throat or lung ailment, read it over twice, and then consider if you can afford to ignore a prescription with the healing virtue of Hyomei, pronounce it (High-o-me): Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N.
Y.

Gentlemen—"I suffered terribly with catarrh in the head for twenty years, and I tried many prescription, but never found relief. I have used Hyomei for two weeks and find it the best preparation I have ever used for catarrh. Every cold I would catch seemed to go to my throat, and I had to use gargle for days at a time.
Now when I catch a cold in the throat
I use the Hyomei inhaler and this soreness disappears over night.
Hyomei has put me on the good road to getting rid of my catarrh, and if you want to use this letter to publish your advertising, do so. Perhaps will help some other sufferer.—W. K.
Engle, 703 Walnut St., Reading, Pa., Oct. 5, 1909.

She Threw Him Over Twice.
"Why have you thrown over Mr.
Pitcoe?"
"Oh, I could never marry a man with a crooked leg."
"What made his leg crooked?"
"I ran over it with my motor car."— Success Magazine.

Soused.
Wife—My husband came home from the club last night with such a swollen head that I haven't been able to arouse him today. Neighbor—Why don't you try pouring a pitcher of water over his head? Wife—I did that very thing, but the only thing he did was to call out for an umbrella.—Fleegende Blat-

THE DIAMOND CUTTER.

His Skill Has Much to Do With the Brilliance of the Gem.

When the expert looks at a diamond he can tell you in a moment where it came from and even whether it was cut lately or some years ago. He knows by its color whence it comes, for the color of the Brazilian diamond differs from that of the South African, and even in South Africa different colors are found in different mines.

In the rough the diamond has little brilliancy, for there is a crust that must be cut away before it can properly refract the light, and it is this power of refraction which makes the brilliancy of a diamond and has everything to do with its value in the market. The skill of the diamond cutter has much to do with bringing out this brilliancy. He must do the most he can with the rough stone before him and lose as little as possible of the precious weight in the stone.

Diamonds are found in all kinds of queer shapes, for the carbon may be in any position while being crystallized, and the act of crystallization may affect only parts of the carbon. When the expert cutter has a rough diamond before him he judges almost instantly how it will cut to the greatest advantage. If it is a pear shape, the pear shape he will make a pear shaped diamond of it. If it is a round shape, the cutting will follow the natural lines as closely as possible, so that the loss may be reduced to a minimum.

To make the stone as brilliant as possible the diamond cutter cuts many facets so as to refract the light from as many points as he can. A full cut brilliant has at least forty-eight facets, and so expert are the cutters that they often cut diamonds so small that it requires a hundred to weigh a carat. Each has forty-eight facets.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Useless Worry.

Folly is never long pleased with itself.—German Proverb.

The Real Scrap.

Two muscular individuals were hammering at each other in the ring. "Horrible!" ejaculated a tender hearted spectator.

"Horrible nothing," said a regular patron. "If you want to see a real scrap get next to them when they divide the purse."—Philadelphia Ledger.

In a Safe Place.

"We have a man in this prison who never tried to escape," declared the head keeper.

"What's he in for?" inquired the visitor.

"Bigamy," replied the head keeper.—Bohemian

THE HORSE.

He is So Stupid That He Can Be Taught Any Habit.

There have been on exhibition at various times horses that are apparently prodigies of mathematical insight—that can do anything with numbers that the trainer can do. Yet we absolutely know that no animal can so much as count at all. Furthermore, it is always the horse that performs these marvels, though the horse is the most utterly stupid of all the dumb creatures that man has made his friends.

That is precisely why the horse is always taken to be made into an arithmetician. He is so stupid that he can be taught anything—any habit, that is—and, having no mind to be taken up with his own affairs, can be relied on to do exactly as he is told.

All these arithmetical tricks, whatever their details, are worked in essentially the same way. The horse is taught, by endless repetitions, some mechanical habit. A given signal, and he begins to paw the floor. Another signal, and he stops. Press the proper button, and he takes a sponge and rubs it over a certain spot on a blackboard or picks up a card lying in a certain position. That is all he does. The meaning of the act exists for the spectator only. The pawings count the answer to a problem in addition, the card bears the reply to a question, but the horse does not know it. He merely follows a blind habit. Just as he will stop when you say "Whoa!" though you interpolate the word into your recitation of the Declaration of Independence.—McClure's Magazine.

Why the Whistle Howled.

Passenger (on branch line)—Say, why does the engine always set up such a piteous howl at this particular spot? Guard—Ah! It was here the engineer first met his wife.—Kansas City Journal.

Love Taps.

WILL OFFICIALLY TAKE OVER BRIDGE THURSDAY

to Formally Release Owners

The county commissioners of Fayette and Washington counties have set Thursday morning of this week at 11 o'clock as the time when they will take formal possession of the Belle Vernon bridge and declare it free. Until that time the Belle Vernon bridge company which owns the structure will have possession, and be allowed to take toll.

Both the attorneys of the petitioners, T. P. Jones of Uniontown, and Alex Templeton of Washington, have agreed that legally toll cannot be collected now, but for the sake of peace the bridge company will be allowed the few days grace. It is likely that some of the company officials will be present Thursday when the bridge is taken over.

The price set on the structure is $50,000, but it is understood that to make possible the payment of debt, the company will take an appeal in an effort to have the purchase price increased. The preparations for a free bridge demonstration are going along well, and by tomorrow night when a meeting of the various committees in charge of the arrangements will be held, it is hoped to have something definite to report.

WILL DEMOLISH HISTORIC INN AT CANNONBURG

Unless some historical society intervenes the old Black Horse Tavern at Cannonburg, through whose rooms fit the ghosts of George Washington and other heroes of Revolutionary days, and though whose atmosphere still seem to echo the shouts and protestations of mail robbers during the Whisky Insurrection of 1794 and 1795, will be torn down to give place to a modern High School building.

For 186 years the old Black Horse Tavern has stood as a landmark. It was erected by Colonel John Canon, for whom Cannonburg was named. Many times there George Washington, in his knee breeches, silver-buckled shoes and cocked hat indulged in a special glass and told Colonel Canon of his experience. There also many times candles burned far into the night while powdered wigs bent close together, their owners in serious discussion of the Whisky Insurrection.

By January 1, 1911, all will be gone. There will be a large brick building, costing $7,000, erected on the spot. This structure is to contain 16 rooms, and auditorium, a gymnasium, a swimming pool and an apartment for a shower bath. At a recent meeting of the Cannonburg school board the property was purchased for $8,350 from the L. A. Adams estate, and work will be started in a short time. It is believed that some historical society will have the building moved to another lot and preserved as a relic of olden times.

Lutherans Enter Protest to Game

Declare. One Score of Last Night's Contest was Illegally Made

By reason of a violation of Section 12, Rule 56, Official League Rules, the Lutherans have protested last evening's game to the Church League commission. The playing question occurred when Umpire Byland permitted a run to score from third base when Simcox was hit by a batted ball which was a direct violation of the rule above cited. Coach Joe Mason and Captain Wertz of the Lutherans protested strongly at the time but the umpire allowed the play to go.

Water Cause of Typhoid

Through the use of contaminated water it is believed an epidemic of typhoid has been started in the "Shovel Row." In all there are six cases at the present time, and two patients have been taken to the Monessen-Charleroi hospital. The residents, it is stated unwittingly used the water that was supposed to contain the disease germs. Charleroi is well rid of contagious diseases at the present time. The quarantine will be removed from all houses where there has been scarlet fever this week and the patients all allowed out. There are but two cases of measles.

Cigar Factory for Charleroi

Charles Black of Washington avenue, a practical cigar maker, who for some time has been employed as a machinist at Macbeth-Evans chimney factory, is contemplating starting a cigar factory in Charleroi, and if he can secure the support of the local dealers, will carry out his intention. At present he is making a canvass of the dealers in town to ascertain what trade he could secure. In his opinion there is an opening for a good cigar factory in Charleroi, one that would employ 15 or 20 men in the manufacture of the product. The nearest one now is in Uniontown.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT MAY BE CUT DOWN IN COUNTY

The county commissioners will join with the State Highway Department in an inspection of the Ellsworth and Bentleyville roads on next Friday for the purpose of taking the roads off the hands of the contractors, if found satisfactory and up to specifications. Hastings and Piper of Charleroi, who were the contractors for the construction of the road, recently finished the work.

No Market for Proposed Issue of

Because of failure to find a market for a proposed $100,000 issue of bonds, the indications are that no additional road improvements will be contracted in Washington county during this year.

Additional work cannot be done unless the bonds are sold and the market for this kind of paper is very slow at the present time.

It has been over a month since the county commissioners offered this issue of bonds, but no purchaser has so far been found. The indifference of buyers is attributed to the fact that there are better opportunities for investment than these road bonds.

Under the state law the county is compelled to sell road bonds at par, four per cent interest, subject to a four mill tax which is paid by the purchaser. This arrangement reduces the income on the paper so that there is no demand for it as an investment.

The county commissioners yesterday made an inspection of the newly improved road leading from the Quail farm in North Strabane township to the Hill Presbyterian church near South Canonsburg. They found everything finished up in accordance with plans and specifications and will soon formally take the road off the contractors' hands. This road is built in accordance with the "Sproul" law sections, the last three mile stretch being completed last week by Reitch Bros.

Dreaming Again.

logic that condemns a school boy to eternal damnation because he missed
wrong, and therefore a sin, and every
sin is deserving of eternal punishment,
former Congressman E. F. Acheson in
the Washington Observer dopes out
a line of reasoning that precludes any contest for the Republican nominations for county office next year.

He reasons thusly: An independent ticket is to be nominated for Governor and State officers and the
movement is to be duplicated in Washington county, whereby the alleged
independents will put up a ticket
endorsing the Democratic nominees
for Congress, Senate and Assembly.
This ticket he has figured will win
from 1,500 to 3,000, and this victory
will so dampen the ardor of prospective candidates for the various county
offices, that all will be afraid to come out for the Republican nominations next year. Consequently there will be no contest. Perfectly clear, isn't it?

mice and men gang aft a-glee." A
new party means a new organization,
and a new organization means money,
and the first snag Mr. Acheson's
question, "Who's got the barrel?"
His dope may work all right on paper, but if the attempt is made Mr. Acheson will find himself worse "licked" than were the Citizens and Lincolns
when they fused with the Democrats
himself in 1905 and 1906.

Drumming Up Trade

ing in the way of promoting trade,
Secretary of State Knox wants to do
for the whole United States. Uncle Sam is not getting his share of the
world's trade because he is not making the proper hustle, and Secretary Knox plans to call the United States
the countries to which they are sent

way of getting the world's trade.

to the resources and manufacturing
here are idle a portion of the time
markets supplied. With a wider
tories in this country would run continuously the year around. For this reason Secretary Knox wants to apply
same way that the business people of Monongahela successfully extended
their trade a few months ago.

A Broken Life Line

an interesting little monograph recently issued by the Siegfried company, General Advertising, 50 Church
street, New York. Under the caption
following:

"By all means, if a business is a business of seasons, be so governed.
Let up a little. Wait your horses.
But an advertiser should continue to
unrelenting weather bureau. People
easily than they do in December, for instance, which is one more of a hundred good reasons why there should
be at most only a partial letting up,
and never an absolute cessation of advertising. Remember that Rip Van Winkle had quite a deuce of a time
getting recognized when he came back.
"And what every advertiser had
cold feet in July and August? True, July and August were made for holidays. But advertisers cannot afford holidays. It was not intended to
have holidays. To cut out advertis-
sever the iron threads of communica-
public—it is to have a broken life line. Advertising is the soul of business, and July and August are just
necessary asset."

name only.

been caught dragging a plough.

that E. F. Acheson can put up, his
pretty soon that he will either run for
get to the vindictive stage.

last year was $4,855,798.57 during the last six years. That compares well
not quite so large.

both capable and careful. In this part of Pennsylvania for a chaffeur
to have just one of the aforeaid pictures is an exception.

get a fortune when he's 23 years old,
if he does a quantity of things before
he reaches that age. Among the provisions being one that he lets women
alone. But when he meets some
chorus girl, the chances of him winning that fortune are somewhat
nullified.

a year ago and has not yet told his
than Napoleon ever was.

day, as he says it does, to be ex-President, why doesn't he make a deal with the moving picture exchange?

for having two capitals. Look at Beverly.

really like you are rare. It further
states that you are a fool if you
offend such persons.

The other fellow never has much
chance in this world, when everything
is "I."

fault with everything the Republicans
do, until they profit, then it is entirely different.

It is the custom to have your pictures taken when you graduate from
is for your friends to laugh over, and the second for friends to look grief-stricken and remark "How natural."
If Manager Fred Clark wants a substitute for his Pittsburg team we'll send him the Catholics or the Episco-
pals of our Church league. Either
play ball.

citizen is informed that 10,103 people
died of Tuberculosis in Pennsylvania
in 1908, he stares vacantly, says,
"You don't say," and straightway
forgets all about it. Numbers in the
abstract convey no image to his
mind. But if you point him to a funeral passing and tell him that in
that white hearse lies the lifeless
body of his next door neighbor's darling little girl dead of tuberculosis,
he is saddened and begins to think
about his own precious ones and what
it would be to him if one of them
were being carried to her long home,
other values to be considered and protected.

And then if he were told that the
10,000 victims of a preventable disease would have formed a melancholy
cortege stretching over hill and dale
all the way from Philadelphia to Pittsburg and back again. Or that
had been observed consecutively beginning at the beginning of that year,
to come, he might be led to give some
health officials are continually annoy-
and if he could be led to comprehend
their combined declared capital pay
might come to the conclusion that,
health authorities to enable them to adopt measures to check this inordinate loss. More than this, he might consider it worth the methods
which science shows to be of practical use in protecting his own life as
the ravages of this scourge.

The individual has his duty as well as the State. The private citizen as well as the official. The father must feel with the mother a joint responsibility for the protection of the health
mind the fact that the school age is
one of rapidly increasing liability
to consumption, and the not less important fact that the chief bulwark against the inroads of the germ of this disease is a vigorous constitution.
It must be the parents' business to
see that the children have plain, whole-
main basis of a good constitution, by
eating at irregular hours. They
should not be allowed tea or coffee
unless by permission of the family
physician. Boys should not be allowed to use tobacco. Growing chil-
frequent evening places of amusement,
should have at least nine hours sleep
and should sleep with open windows,
protected from drafts by screens if
vigorous friction with a coarse towel.

brought up in the open air in the
country if possible. All school chil-
in the open air every day. Exercise
in the gymnasium, while very well as
out door play.

child getting 100 in all his studies,
but this satisfaction may be dearly
tuberculosis germ, ever on the watch,
finds the child an easy prey. Teachers
have bodies as well as minds and to
sacrifice the health of the children
committed to their care on the altar
of their own reputation as pedagogues.
—Dr. Samuel Dixon, State Health Commissioner.

Score 3 to 2 When the Smoke of Brttle Rolls
Away

The Episcopalists defeated the Lutherans in a game, which was afterward
evenly divided. Both teams scored
in the first inning. For the Episco-
pals Johnston got a base on balls,
and was sacrificed to second. Guder
singled and Simcox singled scoring Johnston. Guder tallied on a passed ball. Guder got one through an error in the fourth, and by an error and Montgomery's single tallied.

Eczeme—A Germ Disease Can Now Be Cured.

that Eczema is a germ disease but
the thing that has baffled them is to
find some remedy that will get to
the germs and destroy them.
Zemo the clean, external treatment
has solved this difficulty by drawing
and destroying the germ life that
method of treatment and cure by Zemo is explained in an interesting
book on the subject issued by the
makers of Zemo. It tells how to cure
yourself at home of Eczema, Black-
heads, Pimples, Dandruff and all diseases of the skin and scalp. Call at
Piper Bros. Drug Store for Booklet
and learn more about this clean,
of the skin and scalp.

General Benjamin F. Butler, it is
said, once asserted that a woman was
not a "person," and a London suffragette insists that the word "person"
in its legal sense includes woman. The
Signifying by etymology something to make a sound through, the Latin "per-
meant the character represented by
the player—"dramatis personae." Then
one sustains in real life, and so the "persona ecclesiae," the man who represented the church, became known as a "person." In a special sense and was eventually spelled as "person."
On the other hand, "person" faded away to mean just anybody. And so,
though a woman naturally resents being referred to as a "person" in ordinary talk, many women so less naturally desire to count as "persons" in the eyes of the franchise law.—Chicago News.

He Got None.
"What's a pun, father?"
"A pun, my son, is a play upon
—good ones, which you laugh at; in-
different ones, which you take no no-
throw something at the punster."
"Can you make a pun, father?"
"Of course, my son! Now, you're
you?"
"Yes, father."
"Well, that's supper-most in your mind at the present time. That you see, is a play on— Here, you young
rascal, what did you throw that book
at me for?"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Among the advantages of frog farming in France is the fact that it enables persons of limited means to uti-
shallow and warm for fish culture and
pose and produce on a comparatively
ways an eager market.

FOUGHT CATARRH FOR 20 YEARS

Here is a letter that we sincerely
ask every reader of the Mail to read.
If you suffer from catarrh or any
with the healing virtue of Hyomei,
pronounce it (High-o-me):
Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N.
Y.

with catarrh in the head for twenty
years, and I tried many prescription,
best preparation I have ever used for
seemed to go to my throat, and I had
to use gargle for days at a time.
Now when I catch a cold in the throat
I use the Hyomei inhaler and this
soreness disappears over night.
Hyomei has put me on the good road
to getting rid of my catarrh, and if you want to use this letter to publish in your advertising, do so. Perhaps will help some other sufferer—W. K.

THE DIAMOND CUTTER.

When the expert looks at a diamond he can tell you in a moment where it came from and even whether it was cut lately or some years ago. He knows by its color whence it comes, for the color of the Brazilian diamond differs from that of the South African, and even in South Africa different colors are found in different mines.

In the rough the diamond has little brilliancy, for there is a crust that must be cut away before it can properly refract the light, and it is this power of refraction which makes the brilliancy of a diamond and has everything to do with its value in the market. The skill of the diamond cutter has much to do with bringing out this brilliancy. He must do the most he can with the rough stone before him and lose as little as possible of the precious weight in the stone.

Diamonds are found in all kinds of queer shapes, for the carbon may be in any position with the layers crystallized, and the act of crystallization may affect only parts of the carbon. When the expert cutter sees a rough diamond before him he judges almost instantly how it will cut to the greatest advantage. He will make a pear-shaped diamond of it. If it is square he rounds the cutting with a few natural lines as closely as possible, so that the loss may be reduced to a minimum.

To make the stone as brilliant as possible the diamond cutter cuts many facets so as to refract the light from as many points as he can. A full cut brilliant has at least forty-eight facets, and so expert are the cutters that they often cut diamonds so small that it requires a hundred to weigh a carat. Each has forty-eight facets.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Useless Worry.

It frequently happens that a woman worries a great deal over the question of calling on another woman who does not care in the least whether she calls or not.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Folly is never long pleased with itself.—German Proverb.

The Real Scrap.

Two muscular individuals were hammering at each other in the ring. "Horrible!" ejaculated a tender-hearted spectator.

"Horrible nothing," said a regular patron. "If you want to see a real scrap get next to them when they divide the purse."—Philadelphia Ledger.

In a Safe Place.

"We have a man in this prison who never tried to escape," declared the head keeper.

"What's he in for?" inquired the visitor.

THE HORSE.

He is So Stupid That He Can Be Taught Any Habit.

There have been on exhibition at various times horses that are apparently prodigies of mathematical insight—that can do anything with numbers that the trainer can do. Yet we absolutely know that no animal can so much as count at all. Furthermore, it is always the horse that performs these marvels, though the horse is the most utterly stupid of all the dumb creatures that man has made his friends.

That is precisely why the horse is always taken to be made into an arithmetician. He is so stupid that he can be taught anything—any habit, that is—and, having no mind to be taken up with his own affairs, can be relied on to do exactly as he is told.

All these arithmetical fakes, whatever their details, are worked in essentially the same way. The horse is taught, by endless repetitions, some mechanical habit. A given signal, and he begins to paw the floor. Another signal, and he stops. Press the proper button, and he takes a sponge and rubs it over a certain spot on a blackboard or picks up a card lying in a certain position. That is all he does. The training of the animal exists for the spectator only. The pawings count the answer to a problem in addition, but the horse does not know it. He merely follows a blind habit, just as he will stop when you say "Whoa," though you interpolate the word into your recitation of the Declaration of Independence.—McClure's Magazine.

The Bishop's Will.

Bishop (who has "looked in" at rural Sunday schools)—Now, children, can any of you tell what is meant by the visitation of the bishop? Little Girl (after a long pause)—Please, sir, an affliction sent from heaven.—London Telegraph.

The Great Change.

"Tommy," said the teacher of the juvenile class, "when winter becomes ice, what is the great change that takes place?"

"The change in price," replied Tommy.—Exchange.

Why the Whistle Howled.

Love Taps.

Mrs. Jawback—I suppose you consider your judgment far superior to mine. Mr. Jawback—No, my dear. We proved the contrary when we chose to marry each other.—Cleveland Leader.
